Moonlight Musings.

When day is declining, and calmly and still,
The bright moon is shining o'er valley and hill,
When music seems floating from earth to the sky,
Will mem'ry be doating on scenes long gone by.

When loved forms come stealing in throngs to the heart,
And the warm tears of feeling unbidden will start,
For the loves we have cherished are faded away,
And sweet hopes have perished with life's summer day.

Why sigh for the gleaming of lights past and gone,
While bright ones are beaming to cheer our way on?
For the loved ones departed let tears our eyes fill,
While we bless the true-hearted that cling to us still.

Santa Rita, April 15, 1859.

Would I were with thee Forever.

By G. H. RINGGOLD, U. S. A.

Oh would I were with thee forever,
Oh, would that we never might part;
That the joys which now thrill me might ever
Fill up every vein of my heart.
I have traveled the fairy world over,
I have tasted full many a bliss,
But 'twas madness to hope to discover
The wealth of a moment like this.

Fate might point to the hour with her finger
That should tear me asunder from thee,
Yet my spirit would near thee still linger,
And laugh at the harmless decree!
But no fancies like these will I cherish,
Nor fear the sweet dream will not last—
That the bliss of this moment will perish—
Or leave but a shade of the past.

No! enough that I know thou art near me,
Enough that I feel thou art mine—
As you gaze in my face that you hear me,
In accents responding to thine.
Thou away with the future before me,
Like a syren still singing of bliss,
Not the breadth of all time can allure me
While I live in a moment like this.

That is a true and beautiful sentiment of Bayard Taylor's in one of his poems:

Go, soldiers, to your honored rest,
Your truth and valor bearing,
The bravest are the tenderest,
The loving are the daring.

Let falsehood be a stranger to thy lips,
Shame on the policy that first began
To tamper with the heart, to hide its thoughts!
And doubly shame on that inglorious tongue,
That sold its honesty, and sold a lie!

A BRIDE BURNED TO DEATH.—The "Louisville Courier" says:

By passengers from Lebanon we learn of a most distressing affair which occurred near that place yesterday. Miss Susan Shuck, daughter of John Shuck, Esq., was to have been married to Mr. John Thomas at twelve o'clock. But a few minutes prior to the time the ceremony was to be performed her dress accidentally caught on fire, and the wedding dress, which was of a thin material, was instantly in a blaze, and the young lady was fatally burned. Her sister, Mrs. Burr Harrison, in her efforts to save her, fired her own dress, and was, perhaps, even more severely burned. There is but little hope of her recovery, it is feared. Mr. Shuck and other members of the family, who also tried to relieve the young lady from her perilous situation, were burned, but not seriously. The scene was terrifying beyond the expression of language.

The bride was badly burned from the waist up, and the hair burned from her head. After her wounds were dressed, and while she lay upon her couch, suffering the intensest agony, the marriage ceremony was performed.

Rooms had been prepared at the National Hotel, in this city, for the bridal party, and they were to leave by the evening train.

A BRITISH DESERTER AN AMERICAN LEGISLATOR.—Stephen Walsh has recently been elected Representative from the counties of St. Louis and Lake Shore, to the Minnesota Legislature. It will be recollected that in 1851, he left New Brunswick, where he resided as a Sergeant in the British army, with eight of his comrades, and came to the States. The British Minister sought to have them surrendered under the Ashburton Treaty, but was defeated in the Courts.

The number of animals now in use in the army is stated as follows by the department: 6,060 cavalry and artillery horses; 2,575 horses in the Quartermaster's Department; 13,830 mules; 45 camels, and 132 oxen.

THE JAPANESE WAX TREE.—A correspondent of the "New York Journal of Commerce," writing from Nagasaki, says:

Here first I saw the wax tree, usually about the size of our American plum or cherry tree, which was then in fruit, the berry being green and of the size of a small cherry. The manufacture of vegetable wax is an important part of the industry of the island, for which a large establishment exists in Nagasaki.

COMMODORE STEWART.—The joint resolution, conferring upon Com. Charles Stewart the brevet rank of senior flag officer, passed both houses of Congress. The rank is a sort of equivalent to that of Admiral, and will terminate at the death of Commodore Stewart. It corresponds to General Scott's brevet rank of Lieutenant General.

A friend of ours was traveling while afflicted with a very bad cough. He annoyed his fellow-travelers greatly, till one of them remarked, in a tone of displeasure,—

"Sir, that is a very bad cough of yours!"
"True, sir, (ugh! ough!)" replied our friend, who was a bit of a wag; "quite true, sir,—it's the best I've got."

Jenkins' youngest daughter adopted the fashion of expansive skirts at a dangerous season. A violent cold was the result.

"My dear," said Mrs. Jenkins, "aren't you afraid that Jane has got the consumption?"
"No, my dear," said Jenkins, "it's nothing but the hoop-ing cough."

Many of the brightest virtues are like stars—there must be night, or they cannot shine. Without suffering there can be no fortitude, no patience, no compassion, no sympathy.

Dr. Franklin said, "When I see a house well furnished with books and newspapers, there I see intelligent and well informed children; but if there are no books or papers, the children are ignorant if not profligate."

Peter Corrie, convicted of murder, in Baltimore, will be hung at the same time, and on the same gallows, with Gaubril, Cropps, and Stephens.

The Lynn News says, that if we have a war with England, the ladies will fight, because of late years they have been accustomed to have arms.

They would especially dwell upon the fact that they do their own work, and manufacture all utensils used by them, for which they received a premium at the late State Fair. In every department none but the best of talent is employed.

As vouchers for the correctness of their Assays, they refer with permission to the following Bankers, who, for nearly three years, have shipped bars assayed by them, to the Eastern States and Europe;
